A tipple is a structure at a coal mine where coal is handled, screened or sorted with small pieces discarded, and loaded into railroad cars for shipment. The historic map of the Roslyn-Cascade site labels the facility "Cleaning Plant & Tipple."

